

Description

In the hills of Liguria about 20 minutes from the Mediterranean Sea lies Casa di Basanni our holiday home. It is a renovated rustico with thick walls: warm in winter and cool in summer and stands on our private property of 5000 m². (no fence)

The stone cottage is about 6m by 6m. And has 2 floors. the wooden attached building is approximately 65m². It is situated in an olive grove where each year in early December, honest extra virgin olive oil is made by us and our Italian neighbours. This oil is an indispensable Italian product! The ancient olive trees stand on wide terraces before and next to the house and provide shade during hot summer afternoons.

For entertainment, you can visit the medieval village of Apricale. Within a 5 minute drive you will find alimentari / macelleria.

Even villages like Baiardo, Dolce Aqua, Bordighera and San Remo and Genoa are certainly worth the effort to visit.

Italians also regularly organize organic markets with local products such as honey, wine, olive oil ... and the French culture such as the lemon festival in Menton is not far away at all.

And do not forget that the Mediterranean Sea is also close by. From late April you can swim in the sea until late October. There are also refreshing mountain rivers during summer.

ALSO THE WINTER MONTHS are perfect to come & to recharge your batteries with a good book, a crackling fireplace, good food and almost always clear blue skies!

In short: casa di Basanni is the ideal holiday hideaway and perfect as a base camp to explore the Riviera. All seasons lend themselves to a discovery. Ideal to enjoy the wonderful climate, a fantastic sunrise, the view of the mountain and a beautiful starry sky. In silence and peace.

The cottage (32 m2) :

In 2009 we found it. The ruin.

Partially burned and collapsed. Only the façade and the lower storey had maintained. Immediately in love. It was a spring day in April.

It tickled. So, a project in Italy. „Facile ...!”

The renovated cottage is divided into two floors connected by an external staircase.

Downstairs is the kitchen with a gas cooker, a wood stove and a washing machine, a dining table and chairs, a sideboard with all the necessities. Two french doors that open to a covered patio with fan and beautiful views. Inside and outside flow into one another.

The bedroom on the upper floor is reached via a stone staircase. Here is a double bed, a sink with a round mirror, a wardrobe, an en-suite shower and a separate toilet. Again, a ceiling fan provided.

Ideal for a couple.

The attached building (65m2)

The attached wooden building has a large living room on the ground floor with concrete floor and lots of glass windows. There is a double sofa bed, a Bullerjan wood stove, two display cabinets and a table with chairs. Air conditioning is provided for this departure.

On the first floor is a second bedroom with a double bed and separately a smaller children's room with a baby bed. Everywhere wooden floors. Air conditioning is also provided here.

There is also a wooden outdoor kitchen with gas oven and stove. At Casa di Basannilife takes place mainly outside. Actually you don't even need a roof over your head.

On one of the many beautiful terraces there is also a vintage styled caravan that is ideal for friends or children. There are sun loungers, parasols, a hammock and an outdoor shower with a view of the mountains.

In short, everything is there to have a wonderful holiday in a unique environment.
